Summary

I am a Flutter Developer and choose to design lively mobile application. I have experience in flutter, custom dart development and android programming where I code and create mobile apps that are compatible on different platforms. I am well-versed in GetX for managing the state and making sure the application can run smoothly and can handle the scales when needed. I have experience in other widgets such as custom animations and handling Future and Stream to perform asynchronous operations as well as normal, complex and special widgets in the Flutter package to create a simple, effective and functional user interface.
